Virtual jobsite system which validates requested items against similar items valid for the designated location. E.g., if I'm building a house in Arlington, and want to order 2" PVC pipe, the system checks whether that's compatible with the Arlington building code, or whether the code requires 3" pipe, or metal pipe instead of PVC, or something. The system also provides cost estimates, and then orders the validated items from suppliers. See claim 1.

Some keywords: gap analysis, valid, validate, building code, location, town, jurisdiction, ^{Zip code} estimate, estimator, etc.
